Dedication

There are so many individuals we have encountered during these three years that have firmly moulded in our minds the "ideal of nursing." It is to them we would like to dedicate this yearbook.

Our instructors, particularly Mrs. Andrew, who has stood by us faithfully and has taught us by word and example what nursing symbolizes, are a part of this ideal; the nurses with whom we work; the upperclassmen whom we strived to imitate; the instructors at Dutchess Community College who encouraged us through that difficult first year, and, last but not least, our parents without whose understanding and steadfast support we wouldn't be here on this stage tonight, Friday, September 7, 1962.

In appreciation to our class advisors who have guided us through these three years:

MRS. N. ENCK - Freshman Advisor

MRS. H. MERRITT - Intermediate Advisor

MRS. M. ANDREW - Senior Advisor

Class Poem

I shall pass through this world but once,
Any good therefore that I can do,
or any kindness that I can show
to any human being, let me
do it now, let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.

Foreword

How many times have we looked out the hospital and dorm windows and taken a moment to reflect upon our lives? The beauty and agelessness of this scene is a perfect symbol of the theme of this year's edition of White Caps - memories . . .

"Do You Remember?"

Well, graduation is practically here and as we approach that long awaited day we look back upon our three years at V.B.H. There are feelings of joy and optimism; but they are mixed with sadness. Join us as we reflect upon some of our never to be forgotten memories - - -.

"Do You Remember When - - -?"

Janice discovered there were three instead of two.

Judy and Joan planned their trip to Florida.

Evie, Allison and Lori were picked up by the police their first night in New York.

Char went to bed early and Lori went to bed late.

Barbara wasn't washing her hair.

Evie wasn't going to church.

Sheila napped on the seat.

Betty wasn't counting the days.

Kelly wasn't on restrictions.

Helen wasn't giggling.

Janice wanted to make a gall stone necklace.

Lori fainted in the O.R.

Joanie walked home from D.C.C. after the Micro. final.

Sheila wasn't corresponding with Morocco.

Judy learned to use the Dee-Lee.

Char's desk was ever neat.

Barbara wasn't crocheting.

Betty wasn't robbing the Nest-Egg.

Kelly and Joan weren't waiting.

Lori ever spent her money.

Helen and Joan tried to ride the subway for free.

Allison wasn't hibernating.

Judy wasn't the life of the party.

Evie wasn't blushing.

Kelly was on time.

We weren't hungry, complaining or working 10-7.

We were 27 instead of 12.

Char moved the stool and Dr. Way sat down.

D.C.C., capping, the spaghetti supper, packing and unpacking, room checks, H.R.S.H., P.H., and all the other things that have made these a full three years.

Class Prophecy

It seems as though Old Tower Dormitory was selected as the scene for our class reunion. Here we are, ten years later, in the fall of 1972.

Vassar Brothers Hospital has changed a great deal since we left on September 7, 1962. There are now fourteen circles instead of the five we last saw in the Community Wing. Four extra dorms have been added; one for male students, one for post-graduates, and two for student nurses. The total number of students is now 575. The old portion of the hospital has been remodeled and several additions have been added.

Won't the twelve graduates of 1962 be surprised when they arrive?

Here comes the first arrival - Janice Janufka Tufts. She has traveled over 300 miles from Massachusetts, where she is an instructor in Operating Room Nursing. Life has been quite busy with both a hospital and a family life; but she enjoys it. She has finally built up a resistance to the sun and has a gorgeous sun tan. In her spare time Janice is a screen writer for "Twilight Zone."

Arriving behind Janice is Sheila Weisner. Sheila has been in the newspaper lately because of the fantastic results she has been getting from her one year nursing program that she set up in Brewster, New York. Her students graduate with a B.S. Degree; but of course they have to work the summer. As an extra activity Sheila coaches the DEBETTES, the National Women's Basketball League Champions. Sheila is still quite the athlete, doing 20 push-ups per day to keep in shape.

Allison Ebert's car just pulled up, a station wagon holding four dogs and three cats. She said that she couldn't leave them on the road so she decided to bring them along. Her husband is a veterinarian, and she is his assistant. She is very happy living in a dog kennel.

Judy Blum, having parked her 1953 Ford in front, has just come back from her Public Health visits. Judy is now the President of the American Public Health Nursing Association; but refuses to trade in her Ford limousine for a newer model. She also has contributed $1000 to SNANYS. She had saved this money while she was a student and has kept it a secret until lately. We are all very proud of her.

Barbara Stokrocki is flying in from Washington, D.C. via helicopter. Barbara is now Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. She is piloting her own "copter" thus we are worried about her finding sufficient parking space. We are browsing through her latest novel on "How To Go Through Nursing School on Five Dollars a Week." I think I hear her plane now---.

Bursting in now is Lorraine Dort still as spastic as ever. It seems as though she caught her nylon on a rose bush. Content and happy with her work in New York City as Pediatric Instructor reminds us of our student days at P. H. Watching the clock nervously, she is afraid she may miss her train back. She is now passing out coke bought at wholesale. Save your bottles, girls!!

Betty Feil is resting in an easy chair, what a day at that State Hospital. A salary of $150 a week is a good weekly salary; but 1/10 of this goes for Milltown - those patients really tire her at the end of the day. She and Jeff are working together and neither of them can figure out who needs the rest more. She is quite the competent psychiatric nurse.

Joan Davis is as thin as ever. Her thyroid tablets haven't helped her a bit. She has to apply lanolin to her skin every hour. Joan moves with caution due to her many bruises. It seems she fell out of bed last night after her final lanolin application. She is happily married and is heading Team Nursing in a near-by hospital.

Evie Ant just stomped in, it took us a time to recognize her. She has a heavenly tan after traveling 200 miles across the Sahara Desert via camel. Evie has finally established her long time hope of a missionary station in deepest Africa.

Charlene Camarco has gained some weight. She has four elevators in her home. Her husband is now part owner of Otis Elevator Corporation. We were amazed to see her four carat diamond - it is beautiful!! Her last ring was lost by her youngest son who thought it was a marble.

In walks Helen Castle, nice and neat as usual after a small walk from Dean Place. Helen is working at V. B. H. in the Recovery Room. Still oiling the sinks. She is planning on meeting her fiance at Wallace's for dinner.

Last; but not least, in walks Barbara Kelly - tired and pale from a long day's work at home with the six kids. Kelly isn't seen much around Poughkeepsie as she is now giving cooking lectures in a Missouri high school.

Finally, everyone is here and the meeting is about to start.

Last Will and Testament

We, the graduating class of 1962, being of frail body and frailer minds do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

Betty Feil leaves her admiration of Johnny Mathis records with Johnny Johnson.

Barbara Kelly leaves her always organized ways to I. B. M.

Joan Davis leaves her many prescriptions and ulcer to Luise Durr.

Janice Janufka leaves her inventions and imagination to "Twilight Zone."

Allison Ebert leaves her neatly folded cap to anyone who can improve it.

Judy Blum leaves her good time at H. R. S. H. to all future affiliates.

Lorraine Dort leaves with the treasury in balance and fingernails about to grow.

Barbara Stokrocki leaves her leadership and classroom abilities.

Sheila Weisner leaves basketball to Noone.

Charlene Camarco leaves her ability to procrastinate to all who can use it.

Helen Castle leaves her obsessive-compulsive ways to Barbara Brownell.

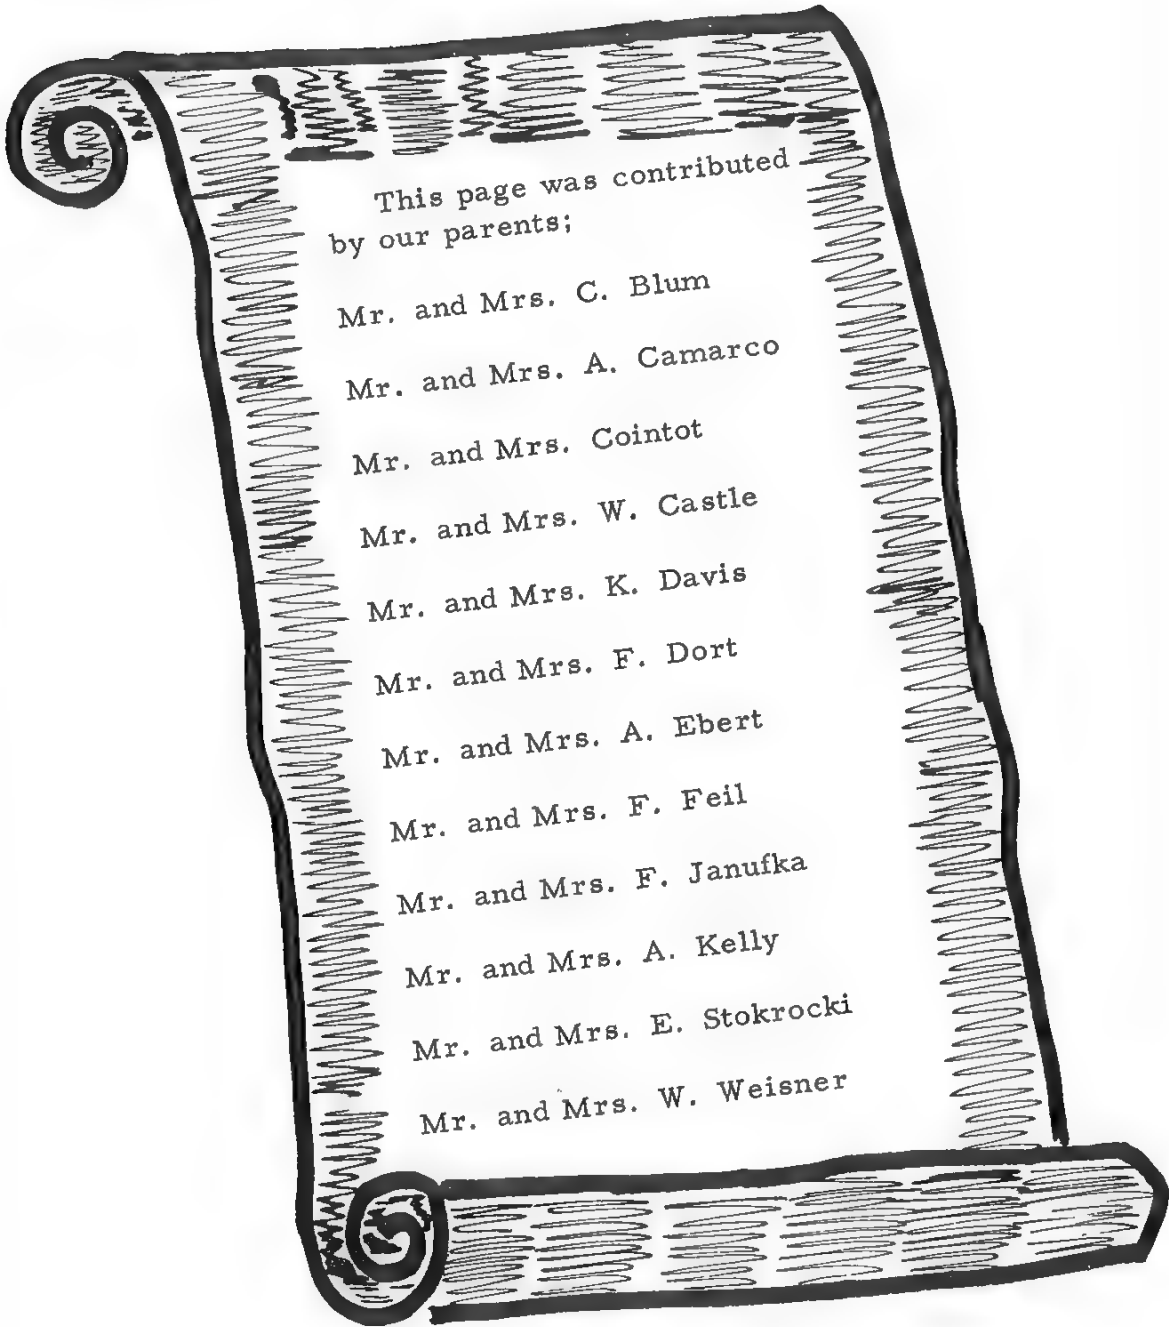

To the freshmen we leave our blue hands and sincere wishes for a successful and happy future.

To the intermediates we leave Old Tower, our love and the unsold sweat shirts.

To Mrs. Andrew we leave our gratitude and sincere thanks for being herself.
